

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A long-term retrievable, permanent blood filtration unit is to be implanted in a vessel of a patient's body, particularly for capturing blood clots, comprising a filter, a stent and a locking mechanism for releasably attaching the filter to the stent.